There are two classes of roles within the club;

Newsletter Editor

The newsletter editor is responsible for producing and distributing a weekly newsletter to the membership through printed and web based media. The newsletter is to contain items of interest and relevance to the club and its members.

The traditional format of the Eastern Vets newsletter has been;

- a series of reports on the club's principal races, that is those conducted on Saturday,
- results from the club's principal races
- an abridged calendar showing the next four weeks of upcoming races to be held by Eastern Vets and other local clubs, to wit Northern and Gippsland
- any general news items of interest, eg.
 - committee matters
 - results of EVCC members attained in other/non-EVCC races, eg. CA races such as Tour of Bright, etc.
 - stories/reports from club members on non EVCC events, eg. Around the Bay in a Day, Alpine Classic, etc.
 - births, deaths, marriages
 - upcoming events not covered in the abridged calendar, eg. Tour de France night, Croydon Cycles Tour de France tour, BV/Audax/etc. events, sponsor sales, etc.

Adhoc Tasks:

- Update Upcoming Events

Update Upcoming Events

These are posts, they are listed in chronological order, newest at top.

Create and delete ('Trash') these as required, the number of 'posts' listed is determined by the 'widget' definition - <Appearance><Widgets>, 'Events Widget Area', expand 'TW Recent Posts', the 'Number of posts to show' value determines the number to show. I have set this to six, expecting us to never want more but it can be easily changed.

My thinking is to only have 'upcoming' posts for upcoming events and not control the displayed posts by the number to show but by the number of posts there actually are. This costs us history but helps display.

Monthly meeting

- <Posts>
- Filter on category='upcoming'
- Select entry with Title="General Meeting", update this as required
- <update>
- Return to the 'posts' page and mouse over the entry
- Select 'Quick Edit'
- Update the 'Date' so that the post appears in the order you want it to – top of list = most recent date – today's.

NB. Widget won't show future dated posts.

Roles and Responsibilities

Appendix B – Club Championships:

The club holds three age-based championships during the year;

- Club Criterium Championships, held in April
- Club Time Trial Championships, held in conjunction with the Rob Graham memorial time trial.
- Club Road Championships, held in October

Championship races are raced in five year age groups; 30-34 women, 35-39 women and men, 40-44, 45-49 etc.

Championship races are only open to Eastern Veterans Cycling Club members who qualify to compete. Qualification entails participation in at least three club races in the season that the championship is for, ie.;

- for the Criterium Championship this means three races with the club from 1st November to the date of the championship,
- for the Road Championship three races from May 1st to the date of the championship and
- for the Time Trial three races from January 1st to the date of the Rob Graham memorial time trial

Qualifying races include all races run by the Eastern Veterans Cycling Club, these include Saturday afternoon races, Wednesday morning races at the loop and Tuesday evening races at METEC during summer. Duty does not count as a qualifying race.

All participants are eligible for championship status in their age group regardless of the number of competitors in their age group. This means that if there is only one starter in an age group that rider will be awarded the title of Club Champion provided they complete the course.

Championship races will consist of a minimum of six competitors. If there are five or fewer riders in an age group that age group will race with the next lowest age group. That is, for example, if there are two starters in the 60-64yo age group they will start, and race, with the 55-59yo group. If that group still has less than six riders it will be combined with the next lower age group – 50-54. The exception to this is the youngest age group where there is no younger group to combine them with.

Where age groups have been combined into one race the competitors within that race will be racing for championship status in their respective five-year age group. That is to say if three 60-64yo competitors are combined with six 55-59yo riders into the one race, there will be two Club Championships decided. The first 55-59yo to cross the line will be the 55-59 champion, the first 60-64yo to cross the line will be the 60-64 champion.

There are no race entry fees for the Criterium and Road Championships, there are no prize monies for these races, there will be medals for the top three in each age group.

The Time Trial Championship differs from the Criterium and Road Championships in that it is combined with a regular club race – the Rob Graham memorial time trial. The Rob Graham is open to any AVCC licenced rider, the standard race entry fee applies to all competitors, prize money will be awarded for place getters in the Rob Graham memorial time trial. All EVCC members will be competing for the Club Championship in their age group. Medals will be awarded to the top three placegetters in each age group.

Eastern Veteran's Cycling Club
